Role description „The Grammarian introduces new words and monitors language and grammar usage of all speakers, noting exceptional usage as well as incomplete sentences, grammatical mistakes, non sequiturs (false conclusions), malapropisms (incorrect word in place of a word with a similar sounding) etc. Example: „One in five children wear glasses“ should be „one in five children wears glasses.“ The Grammarian might also introduce a „Word of the Day“ that helps meeting participants to increase their vocabulary. The Grammarian would also note who uses this word (or derivatives thereof) during the meeting.“
